

Caroline Leander is a pianist, singer and composer living in Malmö, Sweden.

The piano is her oldest friend who has accompanied her performances since the 80's where ever you can imagine; from festivals around Europe to a tiny cheese shop in north west Scania.

Colour, form and improvisation are the cornerstones when Caroline creates her music, both in her solo projects and in collaboration with other musicians.

Her lyrics and melodies seem carved as one piece, built around her voice and piano. Caroline performs as a solo artist, in duo and trio constellations, and with larger groups as well, with repertoire in English, French and Swedish.

She writes music for theater, dance and radio plays.

Caroline "makes music that strolls in a land inhabited by dreamy Californian singer-songwriters, French entertainers and wonderful Scandinavian nymphs with pockets full of jazz.

With gentle, floating tones and subtle Scandinavian texts, her music lifts us, carries us away and brings us home again."

(scholarship from SKAP (Swedish Composers of Popular Music))